Global Executive Producer

Live Entertainment, Sports, & Immersive Experiences

Creating extraordinary live experiences that the world stops to watch through visionary leadership, operational excellence, and trusted partnerships.

Why Bob Holmes?

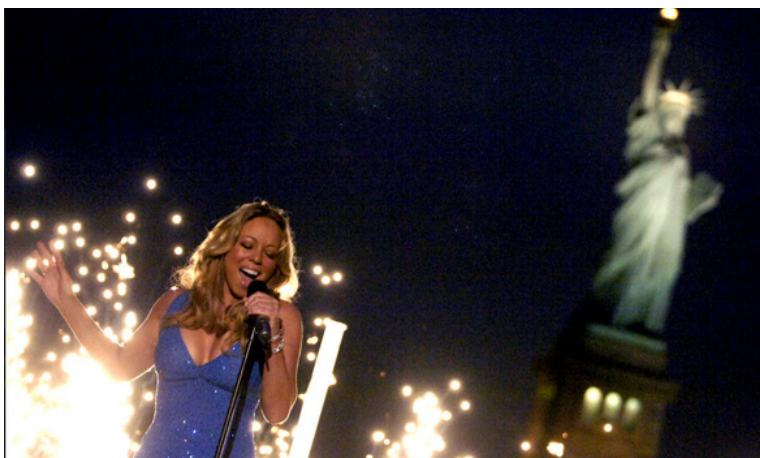

For more than twenty-five years, I've had the privilege of leading productions where thousands of moving parts, hundreds of people, and millions of viewers depend on one thing - bringing the right people together around a common goal.

I've learned that extraordinary live events aren't built by one person. They're built by teams that trust one another, communicate openly, and stay calm under pressure. My role has always been to create that environment.

Colleagues know me as someone who leads with preparation rather than panic, collaboration rather than ego, and steady confidence when the stakes are highest. Whether working with engineers, production managers, clients, venue operators, government agencies, artists, or broadcast partners, I believe the best ideas come from listening first and leading with respect.

I enjoy solving complex problems, building trusted relationships, mentoring talented people, and creating systems that allow creative teams to do their best work. While every production is different, my philosophy never changes: prepare thoroughly, communicate clearly, adapt quickly, and always support the people around you.

The audience never sees the thousands of decisions that make a great live event possible. They simply remember how the experience made them feel. That's why I've dedicated my career to leading the teams behind those unforgettable moments that the world stops to watch!
